

Professional Qualifications:

Al Hauser

Senior Career Consultant

Al has over 20 years experience in counseling and coaching individuals. He spent the last 6 ½ years as a job developer/business services liaison in the public service sector. He has interacted closely with individuals and groups as a job developer, employment coach, career counselor, and job search strategist and employer support specialist over the last decade.

Al has also made numerous presentations regarding what it takes to create resumes that have impact, developing effective job search strategies, and enhancing interviewing and networking skills. He is also very adept at utilizing of the Internet as a web search tool and assisting CPI clients in managing the web during their job search. Al has presented "Career Development Seminars" and served as a partner in the WIA (Workforce Investment Act) Program in the Missouri Career Centers of St. Louis County.

Al also has worked as a Sales Representative and displays sensitivity to our client and candidate's needs that have earned him many testimonials and accolades for his positive attitude, communications ability and total commitment to his candidate's needs.

Al earned a BA in Philosophy and Master's from St. Louis University.

Al and his wife are both from St. Louis and currently reside in south St. Louis County. Al demonstrates a genuine concern for each of his clients and has the expertise required to help them achieve their career goals and objectives.